

Mini Project Documentation Report

Assignment Tracking Trouble: A Tech-Based Solution for Students

Name: Kurt John B. Ibloguin

Course/Year/Section: BS in Marketing / 1st Year / MKTG 1-A

Date: January 23, 2026

Introduction

Many students find it hard to manage their school assignments. They have several subjects, different deadlines, and many online platforms to check. Because of this, students often forget tasks or submit work late. This problem is important because poor assignment tracking can cause stress and lower academic performance. High school and college students are the most affected, especially those who depend on digital tools for learning.

Problem Description

Assignment tracking trouble happens when students do not have a clear system for managing their schoolwork. Some students rely only on memory or write tasks in different places, which makes it easy to forget deadlines. Research shows that many students feel stressed because of poor time management and lack of organization.

Common problems include:

- Forgetting assignment deadlines
- Difficulty deciding which task to do first
- Handling many subjects at the same time
- No single place to organize all assignments

These problems often lead to missed submissions, stress, and poor academic results.

Proposed Solution

Assignment Tracker App

The proposed solution is an Assignment Tracker App that helps students organize and manage their academic tasks in one place.

Key Features:

- Automatic reminders for deadlines
- Organized task and subject lists
- Progress tracking dashboard
- Daily and weekly task views

Target Users:

- High school students
- College students

Expected Impact:

- Higher assignment completion rates
- Better time management skills
- Less stress related to schoolwork
- Improved productivity and organization

This app uses technology to make assignment tracking easier and more effective for students.

Conclusion

Assignment tracking trouble is a common problem among students today. It affects their academic performance and increases stress. The Assignment Tracker App offers a simple and effective solution by helping students stay organized and meet deadlines. With this tool, students can manage their schoolwork better and achieve improved academic results.

References

Smith, J. (2020). The impact of assignment deadlines on student stress and academic performance. Journal of Educational Research, 95(3), 122–130.

National Education Association. (2019). Student time management and assignment completion report.

American Psychological Association. (2021). Stress in students: Causes and effects on learning. <https://www.apa.org>

Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. (2020). Education at a glance 2020: OECD indicators. <https://www.oecd.org>